Dear Devotees of Baba Tapaswiji on his boat of Sat Kartar Beda Par

Nothing in this world is permanent – moment to moment every scene of life changes– it is the nature of change that demands acceptance from life for a new road to travel. In other words change is the passport for new journeys to venture with both excitement as well as challenges.

Just as change stands for a new road to travel even the negative emotions such as hate/anger/vendetta/fear/greed – each stands as passport to a journey of a bumpy ride.

No one likes a road rage but in today's modern age emotions erupt during heavy traffic and in fraction of seconds an outburst runs into abusive scene. This is because at root level the negative emotions of hate/anger/vendetta/greed have not been rooted out.

Out on the roads it's the road rage and if not outside there is yet a road rage inside that takes place because of the negative emotions.

We are all travellers on this mother earth destined for a beautiful - peaceful journey of worldly life free of any rage.

Here is a short story:

Once a young arrogant married man was traveling in his car taking his wife and kids to a marriage party- Simply speaking the man was not a spiritual person.

Spiritually enlightened person means the person knows the meaning of silence, the meaning of peace inside.

While the man was driving with his wife and kids in the car they stopped at traffic signal and just when he moved ahead with his car upon the green signal a zooming truck came on his way at the cross road and almost rammed his car.

The man became angry at the truck driver who was no less furious. Both started abusing each other and in fraction of moments both having got down from the respective vehicles ran into fists and blows with full of abuses from both the ends.

The entire traffic at the crossroad came to a halt. The truck driver managed to bring the man flat on the ground with his fists and blows. A cop was called who managed to nab the truck driver while the person having lost his consciousness found himself in an operation theatre in a hospital.

The family could not go to the marriage instead landed up in the hospital.

When the man regained his consciousness, the guilt inside him made him understand that a few angry words from his end was the result of what where he was now. Just as he was thinking this in front of him on the wall in the hospital room he saw the words ONE WORD / ONE THOUGHT / ONE LOOK CAN CHANGE YOUR DESTINY WITH A PHOTO OF A GURU AND HIS MANTRA - the man asked the nurse who put this on the wall - the nurse said that a previous patient of the room had put this on the wall on having been cured of an ailment.

When the man saw this in that very destined moment he understood the meaning of enlightenment.

He imbibed the mantra which he saw in the wall and one look at the photo of the Guru he knew his life would change forever.

In days to come he became a calm, composed person. Looking at the change in him, his family members were astonished and they too imbibed the same mantra and became devotees of the Guru whose photo the man saw in the hospital bed.

Later they all went to the Guru's abode.

The Guru smiled at them and having hugged all of them simply uttered his mantra .

The mantra had changed not only one life but many lives.

SAT KARTAR BEDA PAR – the mantra for all – the mantra for a smooth journey of life.
